Recommendation

We recommend continued accreditation.

Summary statement

The British Council inspected and accredited Bath Academy of English in July 2016. The Accreditation Scheme assesses the standards of management, resources and premises, teaching, welfare, and care of under 18s and accredits organisations which meet the overall standard in each area inspected (see www.britishcouncil.org/education/accreditation for details).

This private language school offers courses in general and academic English for adults (16+) and for closed groups of under 18s and vacation courses for under 18s.

Strengths were noted in the areas of student administration, quality assurance, learner management and care of students.

The inspection report stated that the organisation met the standards of the Scheme.

Comments
The school offers general English classes for individual adults (16+) year round, with a junior summer school (JSS) for students aged 12–16 taking place during the summer months. There are also occasional closed groups of adults or children throughout the year and several students take one-to-one lessons, sometimes as a supplement to other courses. Courses in business and academic English are offered, as well as English language support for the university foundation programme offered by the sister school, Bath Academy. IELTS preparation courses are run throughout the year.

Introduction

Bath Academy (BA) was launched in 1997 and first accredited in 2008. Since the last inspection in 2012 there have been a number of changes: Bath Academy of English (BAE) is now being used to describe the section providing English language tuition, (with Bath Academy referring to the tutorial college), a new Director of Studies (DoS) has been appointed (2014) and all of the administrative team have changed.

During the academic year approximately two thirds of the classes on site are run by Bath Academy. During the summer, there are no BA students and BAE runs general English and summer courses.

There is a separate DoS for BA and BAE, both of whom report directly to the principal.

The inspection took place when no BA students were present and BAE was running both adult and junior courses. Some classrooms on the top floor had been leased to another private language school a few days before the inspection.

The inspection lasted just under two days. Meetings were held with the principal, the director of studies for English language teaching (DoS), the welfare and accommodation and officer (WAO), members of the office administration team, the enrolment and marketing team, the activity co-ordinator, two activity leaders and two group leaders. There were focus group meetings with teachers and students and the four teachers were each observed twice, once by each inspector. One inspector visited three homestays and a residence.

Comments

M2 The management structure is clear and documented in an organogram. The principal has overall responsibility for both sections of the school (BA and BAE) and the administrative staff. He is supported by a vice principal, who has responsibility for boarding. Each of the two DoSs has responsibility for the teachers in their section.

M3 All staff have job descriptions. The safeguarding responsibilities of the student welfare and accommodation officer are clear.

M4 Communication at the school is good. Open plan offices facilitate an easy, informal exchange of information and there are also regular, minuted meetings with ELT teachers, office staff and the senior management team, as well as one-to-one meetings between the DoS and the principal.

M5 There is a thorough recruitment and selection policy where all aspects of current legislation are considered and checklists provided to ensure these are covered. The policy is not made specific to BAE and, in practice, procedures are more informal than those in the policy. Staff are encouraged to do further training, which is paid.

M7 An induction checklist covers all relevant aspects of working in the school, though this is not followed up and not all staff were aware of the fire exit routes, for example.

M8 There is a BA policy for appraising staff with an addendum which covers English language teaching. Only one teacher and the DoS had been appraised in the last year; the other teachers are on hourly contracts and the registrar had chosen to delay hers. The ELT addendum does not include possible disciplinary measures.

M9 Staff are encouraged to further their professional development and senior management is responsive to requests.

Comments

M10 There are sufficient staff to deal with the administrative requirements of the school. Cover is provided from within the team and each member is able to assist students with queries. A new management software system is being used for BA students, but is not wholly suitable for the ELT students enrolled.

M11 Students are given good, personalised information about their course choices. Part of the process of enrolling students involves the DoS getting into direct contact with the student to ascertain level and study objectives.

M12 Enrolment, cancellation and refund procedures are set out in the terms and conditions and managed efficiently.

M13 There are good systems for maintaining student records and those sampled were full and accurate. Personal assistance is offered in obtaining new UK mobile numbers and these are added to the records.

M14 The attendance and lateness policies are clear and rigorous, as explained in the student handbooks, with an appropriate distinction made for juniors. However, this policy is not always adhered to by all.

M15 The terms and conditions explain the procedures for asking a student to leave. Minutes of staff meetings revealed a great deal of concern for individual students and their progress or attendance. A recently-expelled student had been dealt with clearly and fairly; considerable effort had been made by all staff to avert this and alternative provision was then found for the student concerned.

M20 Complaints and action	<input type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	<input type="checkbox"/>

Comments

M16 Points raised at the last inspection had been addressed.

M17 Management meetings detail action to be taken with timescales and individual responsibilities. In 2013 there was a three-year strategy meeting for the three senior managers where overall strategy was discussed and action points noted.

M18 Feedback systems in the school are good; formal feedback is collected at the end of the students' first week and at the end of their course. These results are collated by the DoS who prepares a detailed analysis in graph form, together with notes on action taken. Feedback is also gathered informally in the office and in conversations with the DoS and there was evidence of students' comments being taken seriously and followed up.

M19 Teachers are invited to give feedback informally at the teachers' meetings. They reported favourably on the openness and accessibility of the DoS in responding to issues raised. There is also a feedback form that teachers had completed, some anonymously, and action had been taken where possible. Administrative staff, however, do not have the same channels of feedback.

M20 The complaints procedure is admirably succinct and clear and includes reference to English UK and the British Council. As well as being explained in the student handbooks, it is displayed in diagram form in every classroom.

Comments

The main medium of publicity is the website, which is separate from the BA website. There are also brochures for general English and junior summer courses, and social media is used. At the time of the inspection there were significant issues regarding the stability of the BAE website platform, which meant that changes made were not always visible on all devices. Problems with the school network were also revealed. In the week after the inspection significant improvements were made, although there were still loading issues with some sections.

M21 In general the language used in publicity is accessible, but not all would be clear to non-native speakers of English.

M22 The brochures raise entirely realistic expectations. However, the website appears to make extensive use of stock photos, which are not relevant or appropriate to BAE. The section on accommodation is particularly misleading, with photos of upmarket hotel rooms. New photos were added after the inspection and this issue was resolved.

M24 The times of classes, course dates, maximum class size and non-teaching days are all specified. However, the number of taught hours per week is not correct; the fifteen-minute breaks are included in the number of hours taught.

M26 In the brochures the description of homestay accommodation and residences is clear and the information well presented. On the website, however, it is not made clear that the hotels and bed and breakfasts mentioned are not linked to, or run by, the school. These references were later removed.

M28 Statements on the website state that all the teachers are highly qualified and experienced, which is not the case. These were later removed.

M29 The Accreditation Scheme marque has not been used on the brochures or the website. This appears to have been unintentional. It was later added to the website.

Management summary

The provision meets the section standard and exceeds it in some respects. Communication is good and there are systems in place to ensure continual review and development. Enrolment and administrative procedures work well so that the provision is managed to the benefit of students. Issues regarding publicity were largely rectified during the inspection, although the website platform is unstable in one area. Student administration and Quality assurance are areas of strength.

Comments

R1 The premises are in an excellent location, being very central but opposite green space which students can make use of during their breaks. The building is listed, which creates challenges for its use as a school, but classrooms and relaxation areas are adequate to provide a satisfactory environment for staff and students.

R2 The school is generally well maintained and clean. There was some evidence of general wear and tear and greater use of noticeboards for student work would help minimise damage to walls.

R3 There are some smaller classes for the smaller groups but the majority can seat the maximum class size adequately.

R4 A student common room has been created in the basement, in response to the previous inspection report. Although not large, this provides a suitable relaxation area for students. There is also an outside courtyard equipped with tables and chairs.

R5 Some of the signage is good, but several offices are not labelled. Noticeboards contained necessary and relevant information but in some classrooms student work was randomly stuck on walls.

R6 The staffroom is shared with teachers from BA during the academic year. BAE teachers reported that there was sufficient space for both sets of teachers. The room is equipped with computers, teaching and learning resources and worktables. There are lockers outside the room and a staff kitchen and toilet on the floor above.

Comments

R8 A small selection of methodology resources is available in the staff room but teachers are directed towards a much wider range of online resources.

R9 There are two interactive whiteboards in the school and an audio player in each room. The school has a contract with an independent IT specialist who deals with any technical issues.

R10 There is a computer room in the school, and a room for quiet study, but no library or self-access centre.

Resources and environment summary

The provision meets the section standard. The school makes good use of its premises to provide an environment that supports the studies of students and offers an appropriate professional environment for staff. Resources are adequate for the needs of teachers and students.

Comments

T6 Teachers are assigned classes depending on their experience and preference, with consideration given to providing sufficient variety.

T7 During the academic year the timetabling must take into account the needs of BA students, which sometimes places rooming constraints on BAE.

T8 Cover can usually be provided by one of the teachers or the DoS.

T9 Continuous enrolment is not viewed negatively by students or staff. Students are viewed as individual learners, which means that new entrants are not seen as disruptive to the group. Teachers are provided with guidance and advice on incorporating new students, in the teacher handbook and in continuing professional development (CPD) sessions.

T10 The teachers spoke highly of the support offered by the DoS. Observation and student feedback inform CPD sessions and teachers are encouraged to pursue further reading or training according to their interests.

T11 Formal observation by the DoS is annual; less formal peer observation takes place more frequently. Observation records are professional, clear and helpful and teachers commented favourably on the process. However, more frequent observation by the DoS, particularly during the summer months, would ensure that standards were more closely monitored.

Comments

T12 The course structure is outlined in the student handbook and uses a combination of generic guidelines and a focus on individualised learning. The DoS is an advocate of individualised, coursebook-free learning but has not yet fully implemented a structure based on these principles.

T14 The junior summer school has a clear weekly outline, with topics and learning outcomes available to teachers and students. However, course outlines are not available to adults on general English courses.

T15 Students are directed towards online learning resources as appropriate and recent CPD sessions included a session on learner training.

T16 The outside environment is well integrated into course content, for the summer school students in particular. Teaching sessions include work on speaking to homestay hosts and preparing for specific social programme activities.

Comments

T17 Students are set an online placement test prior to arrival, which includes a short written text. Junior students do a reduced version. On arrival all students have a short interview before being placed. For some students on longer courses, video interviews are conducted to ensure more accurate placement. However, there are not always sufficient student numbers to ensure classes are of a homogenous level.

T18 Students' progress is monitored informally through the weekly teachers' meeting, where progress is discussed. There are also monthly tutorials for longer-term students, and formal tests. For other students there are regular, less formal tests and reviews.

T19 Students are given advice on enrolling for IELTS. Other external examinations are rarely requested.

T21 All students receive a certificate and a report, irrespective of the length of course taken. Reports sampled were professionally presented, clear and thorough, containing information about the Common European Framework of Reference level at which the student studied, as well as a comment on attendance and class participation.

T22 BAE is able to make use of the knowledge and expertise of BA. Advice and support is available and freely offered on all aspects of university entrance procedures and other UK education pathways.

Comments

T23 Teachers generally demonstrated a good knowledge of linguistic systems with some attention to phonology. Appropriate oral and written models were given.

T24 Detailed class profiles showed good awareness of the students' individual learning styles and linguistic needs. The cultural backgrounds of the students were generally taken into account, as well as their individual personalities.

T25 Lessons were generally clearly staged with a logical series of activities which linked well to the overall aims. These were mostly, but not always, made clear to the students.

T26 A variety of teaching techniques was observed, including pair, group and mingling activities, listening, speaking and drawing tasks. Occasionally, too long was spent on activities, resulting in student inattention and excessive use of the students' own language.

T27 Resources were mostly used well, though board work was sometimes disorganised.

T28 There was some good monitoring and correction and, in some lessons, appropriate use was made of self and peer correction.

T29 Some revision work was observed, with students being reminded of language previously learned.

T30 There was a positive, friendly atmosphere in the majority of lessons, with good use of nomination and evidence of some personalisation. Teachers were generally able to adapt their language to the level of the learners.

Classroom observation summary

The teaching observed met the requirements of the Scheme and ranged from very good to just satisfactory, with the majority being satisfactory. Knowledge of the linguistic systems of English was generally good and teachers were mostly able to adapt their language to the students' level. Teachers demonstrated good awareness of the cultural and linguistic needs of their students. Classroom resources were used appropriately, although board work was sometimes disorganised. A satisfactory range of techniques was observed and a positive learning environment was noted in most classes.

Teaching and learning summary

The provision meets the section standard and exceeds it in some respects. Teachers are appropriately qualified and well supported by their director of studies. Programmes of learning are managed for the benefit of students, although some students are not currently provided with written course outlines. There are good systems in place for monitoring student progress and the teaching observed met the requirements of the Scheme. Learner management is an area of strength.

Comments

W1 At the main entrance to the school the entry phone is managed by staff in the administration office on the ground floor. Electronic key cards, with photo ID, are issued to all staff and long-stay students. Fire alarms are tested weekly and fire drills are carried out quarterly. Six members of staff have received fire marshal training. Students receive information at induction on what to do in the event of a fire. All students aged under 18 in closed groups are issued with identity wristbands but not all students wear them on the premises.

W2 There is no dedicated room for religious observance but the inspectors were told that one can be made available on request. Students in the focus group commented favourably on the friendliness of staff and the assistance they receive from all the staff at the school.

W3 The WAO is identified to students at induction. However, there is no longer a staff photoboard, as there was at the last inspection.

W4 Policies and procedures for dealing with abusive behaviour are detailed in the student and staff handbooks and are available on the school's website and on posters in the school. The WAO is the Prevent Lead and has undertaken advanced training. All staff and homestay hosts have undergone Prevent training.

W5 A 24-hour emergency number is issued to students at induction. The emergency phone is managed by a Guardianship firm which is used by BA and BAE. If needed, the emergency phone holder contacts the principal who has remote access to the school's database. The DoS and the WAO also hold an additional emergency phone in the summer.

W6 Students receive comprehensive and accessible information about getting from their arrival point to their accommodation. An airport pickup service is offered and transfer arrangements are clearly set out in an information leaflet.

W7 All required information is provided, through notices, on social media, at induction or in the adult and junior student handbooks. The junior student handbook is well presented and written in accessible language accompanied by relevant images. The handbook includes useful advice and a helpful set of true/false questions.

Accommodation profile

Comments on the accommodation seen by the inspectors

The school offers full board homestay accommodation. The school has two residences offering full board accommodation for BA adult students. At the time of the inspection one adult BAE student was staying in one of the residences on a temporary basis. The school intends to restrict occupancy to BA students from September 2016.

One inspector visited three homestays and one residence.

Comments

W9 The three homestays visited offered a comfortable and welcoming environment for their students. The residences are located close to the school and are undergoing extensive refurbishment.

W10 The WAO visits potential hosts. A form is completed and relevant details are entered in hardcopy files. The school has 30 hosts on its 'active' database.

W11 The WAO revisits all homestays annually and is in frequent contact with hosts by email or phone.

W12 Accommodation files are kept up to date and all include records of visits and checks that fire risks assessments and Gas Safe certificates are in place.

W13 Students are sent useful and well-presented information about their accommodation. However, this does not include the cost of travel between the accommodation and the school, and the conditions and procedures under which accommodation arrangements can be terminated. All other required information is included.

W14 The WAO makes herself known to students on their first day. Students complete an initial student feedback questionnaire which includes questions about the accommodation services. Three questions were added to the questionnaire during the inspection. See W16, W19 and C7 below.

Comments

W16 The majority of hosts offer accommodation for a maximum of two students. However, a question about the number of students staying in the same homestay was added to the initial student feedback questionnaire during the inspection in order to strengthen monitoring procedures.

W17 Hosts are informed of the rules, terms and conditions in the handbook for homestay providers. The information is very comprehensive and the risk assessment guidelines which have been drawn up by the WAO are extremely detailed.

W19 The WAO reported that students with the same first language had occasionally been lodged in the same homestay in the past, without the school's permission. A question about other students' first language was added to the initial student feedback questionnaire during the inspection in order to monitor the requirements of the criterion more closely.

Comments

W26 Useful information about local facilities is easily accessible in the student common room and on noticeboards.
W27 Junior students benefit from a weekly activity programme which includes cultural and sporting activities, a half-day trip and a full-day excursion. Students in the focus group were enthusiastic about visits to a variety of places. The junior activity and social programme is run by a team of activity leaders under the supervision of an experienced activity co-ordinator. The adult social programme is more limited in scope but is responsive to students' requests. Members of the teaching staff are actively involved in the adult programme.
W28 Health and safety issues are taken very seriously and detailed risk assessments are in place for all activities. These are read and signed off electronically by staff responsible for the activities, and are then kept on file. It would be advisable to sign off the risk assessments on the day of the activity.

Welfare and student services summary

The provision meets the section standard and exceeds it in some respects. The needs of the students for pastoral care, information and leisure activities are met. The accommodation provided is suitable and the management of accommodation systems generally works to the benefit of students. Care of students is an area of strength.

Comments

The school takes 16 and 17 year-olds on adult courses, and runs a junior programme in the summer for students of 12–16 year-olds. The junior programme comprises morning tuition, afternoon activities and a weekend excursion.
C1 There is a clear safeguarding policy in place covering a number of procedures including safer recruitment and handling allegations. In addition there is a staff code of conduct and a whistleblowing policy. The documentation includes guidelines on handling delayed DBS checks. Two references are obtained for all staff and homestay hosts. One of the hosts visited during the inspection had provided two references, one of which was from one of her former adult students. The inspectors drew the WAO's attention to the distinction between 'a reference' and 'student feedback' and advised her of the need to ensure suitable references were obtained in the context of safer recruitment.
C2 The policy is made known to all staff and homestay hosts via handbooks and is available on the school's website. All staff have received basic training and the WAO, who is responsible for safeguarding, and her deputy, have received advanced training. The WAO runs training sessions for homestay hosts.
C3 The BAE website does not have a link to the safeguarding policy on the BA website. The statement of pastoral care on the BAE website does not include details of supervision outside class times and travel arrangements from students' accommodation to the school. These were added soon after the inspection.
C4 The school uses a DBS umbrella body with regard to recruitment procedures. Recruitment materials and procedures were found to be satisfactory.
C6 There are clear rules for what students may do outside scheduled lesson or activity times and without supervision. Homestay hosts were aware of curfew times for junior students and rules are in place, which are in the handbooks given to junior students, their parents/guardians and homestay hosts. There is a risk assessment in place for unsupervised time for junior students and 16–17 year-olds on adult courses.
C7 Junior students are accommodated in full-board homestay accommodation with packed lunches provided. A question about the age of students staying in the same homestay was added to the initial student feedback questionnaire during the inspection in order to further strengthen monitoring procedures in relation to this criterion.

Care of under 18s summary

The provision meets the section standard. Overall the provision for safeguarding students within the organisation, in accommodation and during leisure activities is appropriate.

Points to be addressed

Management

- M5 The recruitment and selection policy is not made specific to BAE.
- M7 The induction checklist is not followed up and not all staff were aware of the fire exit routes.
- M8 The ELT addendum to the appraisal policy does not include possible disciplinary measures.
- M19 Administrative staff do not have formal channels of feedback.
- M21 Not all of the language used in publicity is accessible to non-native speakers of English.
- M24 The number of taught hours per week is not correct; the fifteen-minute breaks are included in the number of hours taught.

Resources and environment

- R2 There was some evidence of general wear and tear and greater use of noticeboards for student work would help prevent damage to wallpaper.
- R5 Several offices are not labelled. In some classrooms student work was randomly stuck on walls.

Teaching and learning

- T11 More frequent observation by the DoS, particularly during the summer months, would ensure that standards were more closely monitored.
- T14 Course outlines are not available to adults on general English courses.
- T25 Lesson aims were not always made clear to the students.
- T26 Occasionally, too long was spent on activities resulting in student inattention and excessive use of the students' own language.
- T27 Board work was sometimes disorganised.

Welfare and student services

- W1 All students aged under 18 in closed groups are issued with identity wristbands but not all students wear them on the premises.
- W13 The cost of travel between the accommodation and the school, and the conditions and procedures under which accommodation arrangements can be terminated are not included in information sent to students in advance.
- W19 The WAO reported that students with the same first language had occasionally been lodged in the same homestay in the past without the school's permission.

Care of under 18s

- C1 A reference from a former adult student had been obtained by one homestay host.
